AUTUMN FLOWERS.

Those few pale autumn flowers,
How beautiful they are!
Than all that went before,
Than all the summer store,
How lovelier far!

And why? They are the last!
The last! the last! the last!
Oh! by that little word,
How many thoughts are stirr'd—
That sister of the past!

Pale flowers! pale perishing flowers!
Ye're types of perishing things;
Types of those bitter moments,
That flit, like life's enjoyments,
On rapid, rapid wings.

Last hours with parting dear ones,
(That time that fastest speeds)
Last tears in silence shed—
Last words half uttered—
Last looks of dying friends.

Who would but fain compress
A life into a day—
The last day spent with one
Who, ere the morrow's sun,
Must leave us, and for aye!

Oh, precious, precious moments!
Pale flowers! ye are types of those;
The saddest! sweetest! dearest!
Bearers, like those, the nearest
To an eternal close.

Pale flowers! pale, perishing flowers!
I woo your gentle breath;
I leave the summer rose
For younger, blither blows,
Tell me of change and death.

THE LIGHT OF SADNESS.

How fondly will affection cling
To what we dearly cherish;
E'en when it has no power to bring
The joys so soon to perish,
The heart delights to linger there,
And with a mournful pleasure,
Still gathers up with pious care,
The dust of buried treasure.

There is a pleasure in a sigh,
When pure the fount of feeling,
And brighter is the tearful eye,
Than when 'tis joy revealing.
'Tis sweet from out the wreck of years
To call each withered token,
And garner up a store of tears
To feed the heart when broken.

Miscellaneous.

Good Night.

There is something sadly sweet in a gentle "Good night!" from the lips of one we love. We are pleased and filled with a quiet—a holy feeling of tenderness; and yet the soul is hushed in calm melancholy—we can almost hear the breathings of low plaintive melodies, and it may seem that tears steal into the moveless eyes. Good night!

"Ah, surely nothing dies but something mourns." And when the little one robed in white, comes with his innocent upturned eyes to kiss your cheek, and lisp, in baby tones, "Good night!" how your voice softens and your tones are instinctively modulated to a musical whisper as "Good night!" like a holy benediction, follows your gentle kiss on the beaming forehead! And then you fall to musing on the uncertain future of the trusting child, and if its life will have as many dark shadows and as few bright spots as your's—and it may be that you forget the sweet sunshine that the little face has just showered upon your soul, and thus called it to moodily muse as the light recedes and the darkness gathers over it again, to be dispelled for a moment when another "Good night!" makes low sweet music in your ear. And then you think of the last "Good night!" to life and love on earth, a slumberous dream of peace steals into your mind, and you seem to hear the poet whisper:

In vain shalt thou or any call
The spirit from the golden day,
Except like them thou, too, canst say,
"My spirit is at peace with all!"

A Clear Conscience.

How bravely a man can walk the earth, bear the heaviest burdens, perform the severest duties, and look all men square in the face, if he only bears in his breast a clear conscience—a conscience void of offence to God or man. There is no spring, no spur, no inspiration like this. To feel that we have omitted no just task, and left no obligation unfulfilled; this fills the heart with satisfaction, and the soul with strength. Conscience, it is said, makes cowards of us all—but only cowards when it reproaches us with some unmanliness—some shrinking from truth and right, and the commission of some wrong.

Impossibilities are not asked of men.—The errors of ignorance, if not willfully persisted in against knowledge, are to be pardoned—these are a part of the natural ladder which man is to climb above imperfection—thorns and pebbles in the path over which he runs his race to perfection. Man knows instinctively what he would have his fellow man to do unto him, and the Golden Rule—by which the conscience is kept clear—only asks that he shall do the same in return.

The road of right, then, is not an intricate one, nor are the demands of a clear conscience dubious. It is profitable to observe and weigh the examples of others, as a means of guidance, but to walk firmly every one must feel the ground he treads on, and know that his own convictions give poise and aim to all his movements. Else he moves not of himself but as an automaton—impelled by imitation, and not inspired by conscience. Just in proportion as the conscience is broad and luminous, man rises in stature towards his Maker—in proportion as it is narrow and foul, he sinks to the level of the brutes, and meanest perishable things. A clear conscience is the offspring of a pure heart, and "the pure in heart," we are told in the holy book, "are blessed, for they shall see God."

☞If you make love to a widow who has a daughter twenty years younger than herself, begin by declaring that you thought they were sisters.

Beginning of the World.

The following is an extract from a sermon of Spurgeon, the English preacher, and is a specimen of the eloquence which, within a year or two, has made his name familiar in both hemispheres:

Can any man tell me when the beginning was? Years ago, we thought the beginning of this world was when Adam came upon it; but we have discovered that thousands of years before that, God was forming chaotic matter to make it a fit abode for man, and putting a race of creatures upon it, that they might die and leave traces of his handiwork and marvellous skill, before he tried his hand on man. But this was not the beginning, for revelation points us to a period long ere this world was fashioned, to the days when the morning stars were begotten—when like drops of dew from the fingers of morning, stars and constellations fell thickly from the hand of God; when, by his own lips, he launched forth ponderous orbs; when with his own hand, he sent comets, like thunder-bolts, wandering through the sky, to find one day their proper sphere. We go back to those days when worlds were made and systems were fashioned, and we have not even approached the beginning yet.

Until we go back to the time when all the universe slept in the mind of God, as yet unborn, until we enter the eternity where God, the Creator, dwells alone, everything sleeping in His mighty gigantic thought, we have not guessed the beginning. We may go back, back, back, ages upon ages. We may go back, if we may use such words, whole eternities, and yet never arrive at the beginning. Our wing might be tried, our imagination die away. Could it outstrip the lightning flashes of majesty, power and rapidity, it would soon weary itself ere it could get to the beginning. But God, from the beginning, chose his people, when unnavigated earth was unfanned by the wing of a single angel, when space was shoreless, or else unborn, when universal silence reigned, and not a voice or whisper shocked the solemnity of silence, when there was no being, no motion, naught but God himself alone in his eternity, when, without the song of an angel, without the attendance of even a cherubim, long ere any living creatures were born, or the wheels of the chariot of Jehovah were fashioned; even then, "in the beginning was the Word," and in the beginning God's people were in the Word, and in the beginning He chose them into eternal life.

A Home Item.

A cotemporary speaking of the constant complaints of housekeepers relative to the unfaithfulness and rudeness of servants, thus discourses: It is the helpless dependence of many wives upon servants, which make the latter impudent and worthless.—If whatare considered well bred town dames did not think it ungenteel to learn a little skill and practice, a little industry in domestic affairs, servants would find, that to get situations they would have to become civil and useful; but under existing circumstances they know that ladies cannot do without them, uncouth and unmannerly as many of them are. If servants were paid wages in proportion to their usefulness and good conduct, it would be some inducement to good behavior; but there is not a proper discrimination made in this respect. Servitude is not very attractive to young women capable of making themselves really useful, and there are no proper means of educating the unrefined women who seek service in our large towns.

Pleasure in Labor.

The Rev. Dr. ALBERT BARNES, of Philadelphia, states that all his published works on the Scriptures, amounting to sixteen volumes, have been written before nine o'clock in the morning. His custom was to rise at four o'clock, as he thought that no one could reasonably complain if he took that time for what seemed to be side work before men usually entered upon the duties of the day. He was so scrupulous about this time that often in the middle of a paragraph, and sometimes in the middle of a sentence, he would lay down his pen, simply because the clock had struck nine, and that called him to his duties as a parish minister. In this case, as in many others, the labor in which this eminent theologian took special pleasure will bring lasting fame long after he is forgotten as the pastor of a Presbyterian church. "Barnes' Notes and Commentaries" on the Scriptures are a permanent contribution to American theological literature, and have attracted much attention on the other side of the Atlantic, as well as among different Protestant sects in the United States.

No Home.

That house is no home which holds a grumbling father, a scolding mother, a dissipated son, a lazy daughter, and a bad tempered child. It may be built of marble, surrounded by garden, park and fountains; carpets of extravagant costliness may spread its floors; pictures of rarest merit may adorn its walls; its tables may abound with dainties the most luxurious; its every ordering may be complete, but it will not be home.—To make it such there must be a change of inmates.

☞It is an old and true saying that a man should not marry unless he can support a wife; and, from some examples that we have seen, we are beginning to doubt seriously whether a woman can prudently marry unless she can support a husband.

☞What is the difference between truth and eggs?

Truth crushed to the earth will rise again, but eggs won't.

The Bashful Man.

Washington Irving, at a party in England, one day playfully asserted that the love of annexation which the Anglo-Saxon race displayed on every occasion, proceeded probably from its mauvaise honte rather than its greediness. As a proof, he cited the story of a bashful friend of his, who, being asked to a dinner party, sat down to the table next to the hostess in a great state of excitement, owing to his recluse life. A few glasses of wine mounting to his brain, completed his confusion, and dissipated the small remains of his presence of mind.—Casting his eyes down he saw on his lap some white linen. "My heavens," thought he, "that's my shirt protruding at my waist band." He immediately commenced to tuck in the offending portion of his dress, but the more he tucked in the more there seemed to remain. At last he made a desperate effort, when a sudden crash around him, and a scream from the company, brought him to his senses. He had been all the time stuffing the table cloth into his breeches, and the last time had swept everything off the table. Thus our bashful friend annexed the table-cloth, thinking it was his own shirt.

☞Some crusty old fellow who got "awfully cheated," must have written the following. Such "ladies" are scarce here.—"The model lady puts her children out to nurse, and tends lap-dogs; lies in bed until noon; wears paper-soled shoes; pinches her waist; gives the piano fits; forgets to pay her milliner; cuts her poor relations, goes to church when she has a new bonnet; turns the cold shoulder to her husband, and flirts with his friends; never saw a thimble; don't know a darning needle from a crow-bar; wonders where puddings grow; eats ham and eggs in private, and dines on a pigeon's leg in public; runs mad after the last new fashion; doats on Byron; adores any man who grins behind a moustache; and when asked the age of her youngest child, replies, "Don't know indeed; ask Betty!"

A Shrewd Idiot.

A well-known idiot, James Fraser, belonging to the parish of Lunan, in Forfarshire, quite surprised people sometimes by his replies. The congregation of his parish church had for some time distressed their minister by their habit of sleeping in church. He had often endeavored to impress them with a sense of the impropriety of such conduct; and one day, when Jamie was sitting in the front gallery wide awake, when many were slumbering round him, the clergyman endeavored to awaken the attention of his hearers by stating the fact, saying, "You see even Jamie Fraser, the idiot, does not fall asleep, as so many of you are doing." Jamie, not liking, perhaps, to be thus designated, coolly replied, "An' I hadna been an idiot I wad ha' been sleeping too."

☞When Bishop Leighton was one day lost in meditation in his own sequestered walk at Dumbine, a fair young widow came up to him, and told him it was ordered that he should marry her; for she had dreamed thrice that she was married to him. "Very well," replied the bishop, "whenever I shall dream thrice that I am married to you, I will let you know, and we will be married immediately."

☞Corny and Patrick, the masons, were looking at a well-made wall, in Germantown, the other day, when the latter, admiring the workmanship, ejaculated, "Faith, an' that wall wasn't laid in this country." "How could that be?" was the inquiry. "I mean," he rejoined, "that the man who built and laid that same wall was never in this country, for such work is only done in the ould country."

☞Old Dr. Foster, who practiced in the healing art at Buxford, some years ago, was in the habit of cooking up all sorts of roots and herbs into medicines and specifics, and trying them on his wife. If they did not kill her, he was ready for all his other patients.

APPROPRIATE REBUKE.—Among the guests at one of Lady Cowley's soirees was a Mr. L——, who believing that none but a friend whom he addressed was within hearing, said—"And they call this a party! Why, I never saw anything so dull in my life. It is not worth the trouble of dressing for such an affair. And then, the rooms are so intolerably hot!" Unfortunately, the noble hostess was standing near, and overheard him, and she immediately said—"Mr. L——, there (pointing to the ante-room) is a cooler room, and beyond it (the hall) is one still cooler." This prompt and significant rebuke and hint was felt and understood, and taken.

☞The saw-dust from the mills was formerly considered a great nuisance to the mill owners, who hardly knew how to get rid of it, and to river fisheries, which it greatly injured when thrown into the river. Now, however, it is turned to good account, and the ashes command quite a fair price for manure. One hundred barrels were shipped for Nova Scotia week before last, which were purchased for forty cents per barrel. They are also in large demand for the object of extracting the alkali contained in them to manufacture into pearl ashes.

☞It's my luck, exclaims every man when he meets with misfortune. An Italian poet once said, in a fit of despair, that, if he had been bred a hatter, men would have been born without heads.

☞A gentleman who spoke of having been struck by a lady's beauty, was advised to kiss the rod.

Cure for Fits.

FOR A FIT OF PASSION.—Walk out in the open air; you may speak your mind to the winds without hurting any one, or proclaiming yourself a simpleton.

FOR A FIT OF IDLENESS.—Count the ticking of a clock; do this for one hour, and you will be glad to pull off your coat the next and go to work.

FOR A FIT OF EXTRAVAGANCE AND FOLLY.—Go to the work-house and speak with the inmates of a jail, and you will be convinced—

Who makes his bed of briar and thorn
Must be content to lie forlorn.

FOR A FIT OF AMBITION.—Go into the church yard, and read the gravestones; they will tell you the end of ambition. The grave will soon be your bed chamber, the earth your pillow, corruption your father, and the worm your mother and sister.

FOR A FIT OF DESPONDENCY.—Look on the good things which God has given you in this world, and to those which He has promised to His followers in the next. He who goes into his garden to look for cobwebs and spiders no doubt will find them; while he who looks for a flower may return into his house with one blooming in his bosom.

FOR ALL FITS OF DOUBT, PERPLEXITY, AND FEAR.—Whether they respect the body or the mind—whether they are a load to the shoulder, the head, or the heart—the following is a radical cure, which may be relied on. I had it from the Great Physician: "Cast thy burden on the Lord, and He will sustain thee."

FOR A FIT OF REPINING.—Look about for the halt and the blind, and visit the bed-ridden, and the afflicted and deranged, and they will make you ashamed of complaining of your lighter afflictions.

Neatness in Dress.

The neglect of the outward appearance indicates either a little mind, or a disregard to the opinion of our neighbors. One should always be neat and clean in person and dress, because this is an evidence of respectability. No lady who has any regard for herself, or any respect for the society in which she moves, will be slovenly in her appearance or careless in her attire. It is true, there is danger in being too particular, but every lady is entitled to follow her own taste as to dress, provided she dresses suitably—that is, according to her age and circumstances.

The young of either sex, but particularly the females, ought to regard their external deportment and appearance as, to a certain extent, essential to character.

To dress simply and without ostentation is a mark of modesty; but, in endeavoring to avoid everything like display, young ladies, especially, should be careful not to fall into the opposite extreme—that of prudery. There is more sincerity, if there be less nicety, in the conduct of one really virtuous that there is in that of a prude; and some degree of freedom, so far from being incompatible with the strictest virtue, is one of its principal privileges. If a lady is obliged to receive company en dishabille it is a sign of good breeding if she appears perfectly at ease, and makes little or no apology for her appearance.

SIMPLE CURE FOR CROUP.—We find in the Journal of Health the following simple remedy for this dangerous disease. Those who have passed nights of agony at the bedside of loved children, will treasure it up as a valuable piece of information:

If a child is taken with croup, apply cold water—ice water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will instantly be relieved.—Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can, then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety, and lead the heart in thankfulness to the Power which has given to the pure gushing fountain such medical qualities.

GOOD ADVICE.—If the poor house has any terror for you, never buy what you don't need. Before you pay three cents for a jews-harp, see if you can't make just as pleasant a noise by whistling—for such music nature furnishes the machinery. And before you pay seven dollars for a figured vest, young man, find out whether your lady love would not be just as glad to see you in a plain one that cost half the money.—If she wouldn't, let her crack her own walnuts and buy her own clothes.

FRESH AIR.—Give your children plenty of fresh air. Let them snuff it until it sends the rosy current of life dancing joyfully to their temples. Air is so cheap, and so good, and so necessary withal, that every child should have free access to it. Horace Mann says:—

"To put children on allowance of fresh air, is as foolish as it would have been for Noah, during the deluge, to have put his family on a short allowance of water. Since God has poured out an atmosphere of fifty miles deep, it is enough to make a miser weep to see our children stinted in fresh air."

DANGEROUS HABIT.—The Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph says: "A lady had the habit of picking her teeth with pins. A trifling humor was the consequence, which terminated in a cancer. The brass and quicksilver used in making these pins will account for this circumstance. Pins are always pernicious to the teeth, and should never be used for toothpicks.

☞A sweet girl is a sort of divinity, to whom even the Scriptures do not forbid us to render "lip-service."

☞They that laugh at everything, and they that frot at everything, are fools alike.

Hygienic Hints.

Hall's Journal of health says that the tendency of India rubber shoes is to make the feet cold, thus endangering the health; hence they are useful only in walking when the ground is muddy or sloshy with melting snow. In these cases they are invaluable. When rubbers are on the feet persons should keep moving and remove them on entering the house. If the rubbers have been on the feet several hours, both shoes and stockings are necessarily damp by the condensation and confinement of the perspiration; therefore all should be removed and the naked foot held to the fire till warm and dry in every part. The same rule holds good in relation to leather boots and shoes made water proof. For common purposes leather boots and shoes are the best, if kept well blacked, with several renewals of dry socks during the day if the feet perspire profusely.

If a man begins to cough, as the result of a common cold, it is the result of nature herself attempting a cure, and she will effect it in her own time, and more effectually than any man can do if she is only let alone, and her instincts cherished. What are those instincts? She abhors food and craves warmth. Hence, the moment a man is satisfied that he has taken a cold, let him do three things: 1st, eat not an atom; 2d, go to bed and cover up in a warm room; 2d, drink as much cold water as he wants, or as much hot herb tea as he can, and in three cases out of four he will be almost entirely well within thirty six hours. If he does nothing for his cold for forty-eight hours after the cough commences there is nothing that he can swallow that will, by any possibility, do him good, for the cold, with such a start, will run its course of about a fortnight in spite of all that can be done, and medicine will only hinder a cure. "Stuff a cold and starve a fever" is a mischievous fallacy. A cold always brings a fever; the cold never begins to get well till the fever begins to subside; and every mouthful that is swallowed feeds the fever.

Keep Your Seats in the Cars.

Of the twelve passengers who were killed on the excursion train in Wisconsin, a few days since, seven are reported by the papers as being, at the time of the accident, as follows: One in the post office car, three in the baggage car, and three on the platform; of the other five the account does not state where they were, but, as two of them are stated to be in the employ of the company, it is to be inferred that they were not in the regular passenger seats, and the other three may have been in their seats, or may not, the papers do not state; but as not one lady was killed, and as they were a large proportion of the party, the presumption is not one of the men killed was where, by the rules of the company and by the dictates of common prudence, he should have been. Had the "notice to the passengers" on the car door forbidding them to stand on the platform been regarded, not a life would have been lost. Why will not passengers obey that rule? The answer is plain. In very many instances they are so wedded to tobacco that they must smoke, even at the peril of their lives.—Cleveland Herald.

Smoking Regulations.

A book recently published in London, entitled "Habits of Good Society," contains the following rules and suggestions in regard to smoking:

But if you smoke, or if you are in the company of smokers, and are to wear your clothes in the presence of ladies afterwards, you must change them to smoke in. A host who asks you to smoke will generally offer you an old coat for the purpose. You must also, after smoking, rinse the mouth well out, and, if possible, brush the teeth. You should never smoke in another person's house without leave, and you should not ask leave to do so if there are ladies in the house. When you are going to smoke a cigar yourself, you should offer one at the same time to any body present, if not a clergyman or a very old man. You should always smoke a cigar given to you, whether good or bad, and never make any remarks as to its quality.

FURS EXTRAORDINARY.—A New York correspondent of a Charleston paper says that the leading fur manufacturers of the former city have been busily working up, during the past summer, skunk skins, exclusively intended for the foreign market, where the skunk and his remarkable properties are entirely unknown. Large quantities of them go to Europe, and they are highly prized there under various fictitious and fancy names.

A CHINESE DINNER.—During the visit of Mr. Ward, the American minister, to Pekin, China, he was honored with a sumptuous dinner. Though only the three Chinese commissioners and Mr. Ward, his secretary, and two interpreters, were present and sat down to it, the supply was enough for at least a hundred, and the expense was estimated at $1,500. It consisted of various dishes—birds' nests, sharks' fins, heifers' teats, watermelon seeds, &c., &c., the whole amounting to no less than thirty courses.

A YOUNG LADY SENT WEST BY ADAMS' EXPRESS.—A beautiful and accomplished young lady passed through this city last week en route for St. Louis, where she was being sent by express. She was from Paris, and being unable to speak our "barbarous lingo," her friends had adopted this method of sending her to her destination; she was regularly entered upon the "way bill," and freight paid all the way through.—Norfolk Day Book.

A Fixed Fact.

The less you leave your children in your will, the more they will have in twenty years afterwards. Wealth inherited should be an incentive to action—instead of that it is an incentive to sloth. The only money that does a man good is what he earns himself. Already-made fortune, like ready-made breeches, seldom fits the man who comes in possession. Not many years ago an immensely wealthy citizen of Harrisburg died, leaving to each of his three sons a handsome fortune. In the course of about two years, one of them died a miserable drunkard, among strangers in a distant section of the Union, having in that brief period squandered the whole of his large patrimony. Another of the family, quite a young man, the possessor of thousands, with a brilliant future before him, by a course of intemperance, licentiousness and extravagance, has, within a very few years, been reduced from opulence to beggary, and now occupies the position of a common day laborer. We could cite other instances in our community, living illustrations of the fact that wealth inherited often proves a curse, rather than a blessing, to the possessor; but the above will suffice for the present.

☞A few years ago, when it was the custom for large girls and larger boys to attend district schools, and when flagellations were more common at school than at the present time, an incident took place in a neighboring town which is worth recording. One of the largest, tallest, and plumpest girls of the school happened to violate one of the teacher's rules. The master—a prompt energetic fellow of twenty-five—summoned her into the middle of the floor. After interrogating the girl a few moments, the master took a ruler, and commanded her to hold out her hand. She hesitated; when the master thundered out: "Will you give me your hand?" "Yes, sir, and my heart, too," promptly replied the girl, at the same time stretching forth her hand to the master and eyeing him with a cunning look. A death-like silence reigned for a moment in the schoolroom; a tear was seen to glisten in the master's eye, the ruler was upon the desk, and the blushing girl was requested to take her seat but remain after school was dismissed. In three weeks after the school finished, the teacher and the girl were married.

Disinterested Love.

Yes! man has a strong yearning for disinterested love; much more so than woman. Once convince a man that you love him, truly for himself—for his own self—independently of riches, rank, station, position, or any of the thousand and one advantages that he may be possessed of—only, I say, make him feel that, and you need not be very nice about the mode in which you go to work. Men are as voracious as boa-constrictors, they will swallow almost any quantity of flattery, provided always that it be offered at the right time. It won't do to flatter one man in the presence of another. Be careful of that; but let a woman take the lucky moment, seize upon the right opportunity, and she may make a man—ay, in spite of all his wondrous sense and reason—her slave for life.—[Millicent Newville.

A Man Wearing Hoops.

A person supposed to be a female, giving the name of Anna Page, was arrested in Savannah, Ga., on Monday, wearing very extended hoops. An examination, however, showed that the person was a male. On his examination he stated his name to be Charles Williams. The Savannah Republican says he converses freely and well, and with all of the action and delicate-toned voice of a woman. He is an exquisite counterfeit, and seems up to the arts of the sex; assumes the female admirably in his manners and deportment, wears her clothes gracefully, and they are arranged with a certain degree of taste, wholly inconsistent with the habits of males.—The mayor sentenced him to prison for ten days.

A JAVAN CRIMINAL VERSUS A ROYAL TIGER.—A Javan criminal was condemned by the Sultan to fight a large royal tiger whose ferocity was raised to the highest point by want of food and artificial irritation. The only weapon allowed to the human combatant was a dagger with the point broken off. After wrapping a cloth round his left fist and arm the man entered the arena with an air of undaunted coolness, and fixed a steady, menacing gaze upon the brute. The tiger sprung ferociously upon his intended victim, who, with extraordinary boldness and rapidity, thrust his left fist into the gaping jaws, and at the same moment, with his keen though pointless dagger, ripped up the beast to the very heart. In less than a minute the tiger lay dead at the conqueror's feet. The criminal was not only forgiven but ennobled by his sovereign.

☞A seamstress in Cincinnati, named Margaret Dickson, died on Saturday, from the effects of a needle accidentally thrust into the hollow of her left hand. What is more singular still—the wound never Bled.

☞"In my fertile country," said a Leicestershire man, "you could turn a horse into a field new mown, and the next morning the grass would be grown above his hoofs."

"Pooh! that is nothing," cried a Yorkshire man, "you may turn a horse into almost any field in Yorkshire, and not be able to find him the next morning!"

A Personal Interview with Capt. Brown's Wife.

The New York Independent publishes an account of an interview of a correspondent with Mrs. Brown, the wife of Capt. Brown, the convicted leader of the Harper's Ferry insurgents:

Mrs. Brown is tall, large and muscular, giving the impression at first sight of a frame capable of great strength and long endurance. Her face is grave and thoughtful, wearing, even in this hour of her trial, an expression of soberness rather than of sadness. She is a native of Whitehall, near Lake Champlain, and has been the mother of thirteen children; but notwithstanding the cares of her numerous family, and her many privations and struggles independent of household burdens, she still appears as fresh and hale as if she were only now in the prime and vigor of life. While living in Ohio, four of her children died from dysentery, within eleven days, three of whom were carried to the grave together on the same day.

I referred incidentally to the design upon Harper's Ferry as having been premeditated for two years, to which she immediately replied, "Not for two years, but for twenty!" He had been waiting twenty years for some opportunity to free the slaves; we had all been waiting, with him, the proper time when he should put his resolve into action; and when, at last, the enterprise of Harper's Ferry was planned, we all thought that the time had now come. Mr. Brown was sanguine of success; we all were equally confident. He had no idea, nor did any of the family, that the experiment would result in defeat. We all looked to it as fulfilling the hopes of many years."

I then put the question which I had been chiefly solicitous to ask: "It is the common talk of the newspapers that Capt. Brown is insane—what do you say to that opinion?"

"I never knew," she replied, "of his insanity until I read it in the newspapers. He is a clear-headed man. He has always been and now is entirely in his right mind. He is always cool, deliberate, and never over-hasty; but he has always considered that his first perceptions of duty, and his first impulses to action were the best, and the safest to be followed. He has almost always acted upon his first suggestions.—No, he is not insane. His reason is clear. His last act was the result, as all his other acts have been, of his truest and strongest conscientious convictions."

A HARDENED VILLAIN.—Nearly a month ago a man, named Wm. Ingham, of Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y., left that village, under the pretence of visiting his relations in Red Bank, New Jersey, taking his wife along with him. In a few days after he returned, and stated that his wife had been taken suddenly ill and died. He collected all the money due him in Kingston and left for parts unknown. Not long after his departure a letter was received by the authorities of Kingston, from the Police Justice of Red Bank, which stated that the man had attempted to murder his wife, in order to save the expense of her support.—Mrs. Ingham arrived in Kingston on Tuesday, and complained that her husband attempted to murder her, as they were crossing over a bridge, on the way to Red Bank. He pushed her from the edge of the bridge, when she fell a distance of forty feet into the water, and supposing, of course, that she would be drowned, he made off. The poor creature, however, managed to crawl to the shore, and arriving at the bank, stated the above account, when she was sent to Kingston.

☞A case of some interest has engaged the attention of the Courts in San Francisco. Mr. Levy, a Jew, had been summoned as a juror in the Supreme Court, but, failing to appear, was sent for and found to be at his devotions at the Synagogue. He informed the officer that the day was observed by those of the faith as the Festival of Atonement, and that it would be impossible for him to serve. The Judge instantly imposed a fine of $500, subsequently reduced to $250, upon the delinquent, who, with pecuniary aid of his co-religionists, proposes to contest the case and settle a vexatious religious difficulty.

GOOD ADVICE TO THE IRRITABLY DISPOSED.—Always keep cool, but more especially on paper. An angry letter is worse than an angry speech, because the words always remain, not to be explained away, atoned for by a kiss, softened down by love, that may speedily follow anger when spoken. Heaven defend us from angry letters! They should never be written. The rule, at least, should be, that no angry letter shall be posted till four and twenty hours have elapsed since it was written. We all know how absurd is that other rule, that of saying the alphabet when you are angry. Trash! Sit down and write your letter.—Write it with all the venom in your power; spit out your spleen at the fullest—it will do you no good. You think you have been injured. Say all you can say with all your poisoned eloquence, and gratify yourself by reading while your temper is still hot. Then put it in your desk, and, as a matter of course, burn it before breakfast the next morning. Believe me, that you will have a double gratification.

☞Out West, the law gives damages for apparent breach of promise. The bachelors, however, obviate the difficulties by having their cards labelled, "Good for this call only."

☞The age of a young lady is now expressed according to the present style of skirts, by saying that "eighteen springs had passed over her head."

The Excited Chivalry.

A wild, unreasoning, frantic excitement possesses the region round about Harper's Ferry. From Richmond and Alexandria considerable bodies of troops are despatched to the scene of action. Arrests meanwhile constant, and every unsanctified Yankee pedlar, every poor devil who happens to be incognito, to the chivalry is an object of suspicion, and may take his choice between jail and banishment. For all this panic, says the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, there is a certain show of reason.—During Thursday five barns and outhouses in the neighborhood of Charlestown were fired by incendiaries. This happening to a community whose social system rests at all times on a powder magazine, may justify and excuse the otherwise laughable display of military force. Sitting at a safe distance from the scene of action, with a peaceful and trust-worthy population about us, each of whom has a certain stake in the maintenance of law and order, we are liable to look too lightly upon the real dangers to which Virginia is exposed. All the rumors of rescue to the prisoners from the North; and the incendiarisms charged to sympathizers with Brown, are doubtless untruthful. The race of Abolition sympathizers is not so warlike or so ultra courageous as to trust itself within the limits of Virginia just now. If our Southern friends knew these people as well as we do, they would look for them at a long distance from the scene of action.—But there is, nevertheless, a great and appalling danger imminent to the social system of the region involved. The slave population has caught the excitement of the hour and begun to understand the object of the John Brown invasion. It could hardly be otherwise, and we may fear that only the least of the consequences of that mad foray are yet known to us. At any rate, a frightful fear pervades the people of Northern Virginia. Every planter is surrounded by servants bred upon his estate, who have been his companions and the companions of his children, who cook his food and pass in and out before him; but who cannot be trusted for a moment. Women watch the approach of night with terror, and men sleep armed for sudden attack—And when a horror so dreadful impends upon a portion of our countrymen, we do not find it fair to ridicule their fears; but rather thank God that a theory of labor prevails here in the free North which permits of no such panics.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

☞The Pittsburg Dispatch says that when Thomas Cunningham, Esq., of Beaver, Pa., went to Kansas, under an appointment as U. S. Judge, in passing through a settlement he met old Ossawatomie Brown, who had just arrived with half a dozen Pro-Slavery prisoners captured while in arms to assail the Free-State settlers. Among them were several slaveholders, who were discharged by Brown, (as Gov. Wise promised to discharge Gerrit Smith,) with a lecture, as poor ignorant devils, who knew no better; then, turning to the Northern men with Southern principles, he remarked: "As for you fellows, who ought to know better, having been brought up in the Free North, I must ask the Lord what I shall do with you?" Whereupon the stern old man commenced praying to the Almighty, asking his aid, that he might so dispose of the prisoners as to best promote the Free State cause, &c., in the midst of which Judge Cunningham, after vain attempts at restraining it, burst into a fit of laughter. In a moment Brown ceased praying, and turning his piercing eyes upon the offender, remarked:

"And if you don't stop laughing, I shall dispose of you, sir, without asking the Lord anything about it!"

It is unnecessary to say that the honorable Court resumed its accustomed demeanor, and that the subsequent proceedings of John Brown's drum head courtmartial were marked with no levity so far as Judge Cunningham was concerned.

☞Several of the New York newspapers are exercising their wits upon the excitement produced in the border counties of Virginia by the late efforts of John Brown and his ruffian band to excite insurrection. It may be a very good theme for men who keep themselves out of harm's way, but there may be retribution in reference to this as in every thing which evinces a want of humanity. The Express truly observes:

"Perhaps some of our Northern people would be scared also if they found bands of armed men traversing the State, counselling their servants to rise, breaking open their dwellings at midnight, seizing the public arsenals, firing their homes and dwellings, and a powerful public opinion in the South exalting such traitors as saints having no parallel, according to Emerson in Massachusetts, and Dr. Cheever's prayer-meeting in New York, but in the execution of Christ upon the cross. No wonder John Brown himself is ashamed of one-half of his sympathizers."

CHARLESTOWN, Nov. 21.—We have now one thousand men under arms here, and it is the intention of the Governor to keep them here until after the execution. The excitement has abated, though the rumor of an attempted rescue has been somewhat strengthened by a dispatch from U. S. Marshal Johnson, of Ohio, giving assurance that a party is arming and organizing in that State, under command of John Brown, Jr., son of Ossawatomie. Gov. Wise will start for Richmond to-morrow.

Terrible Railroad Accident.

Three Men Killed and Several Injured.—On Friday last a terrible accident occurred, on the Indiana Central Railroad, near Canebridge city. A rail had been taken up from the bridge for repairs, and before it could be replaced, a train drawing eighteen cars filled with hogs came along at high speed, and before it could be stopped the engine with thirteen cars plunged through the bridge into the river. A. J. Smith, of Indianapolis, conductor, Given, a brakesman, and a drover named Newby, were killed. Several firemen were injured. The engineer jumped from the train and escaped. It is said that over five hundred hogs were killed. The engine, cars and bridge are piled up in one horrible wreck.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 23d.—Mr. Eastman, the senior editor of the Union and American, died this morning of apoplexy. Mr. Poindexter, of the same journal, it will be remembered, was only a few days since killed in an affray with Mr. Hall, of the News.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1859.

☞Thanksgiving day passed off in a very orderly manner. Business was pretty generally suspended, and our town presented a very quiet, Sabbath-like appearance.—In the forenoon, there were religious services in Christ Church—sermon by Rev. Mr. Keiser. The afternoon was generally spent in pleasant social intercourse.

Death of Rev. Mr. Hersh.

Rev. CHARLES H. HERSH, pastor of the Second English Lutheran Church, Baltimore, and formerly of this place, died on Tuesday night last, at his residence in that city, from an organic affection of the heart, with which he has been afflicted for some time. His remains were brought to New Oxford, the residence of his parents, on Thursday last, for interment. Mr. Hersh was 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. We sympathize deeply with them, as well as his other relatives, in this sad bereavement. The Baltimore Sun remarks:—"The labors of Mr. Hersh were not without their fruits. To an eloquence that found few superiors in his Church were added the character of the true Christian, and the sincere friend, that endeared him to all."

☞The Pennsylvania Eldership of the "Church of God," held its Thirtieth Annual Session at Goldsboro', York county, on the 9th inst. We observe that for the Adams county Mission, J. F. WEISHAMPLE is appointed until spring, and WM. GREEGAR next year.

☞Rev. John J Kendig, of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, has been chosen assistant of the Trinity Lutheran Church, at Reading, Pa.

☞The last Compiler intimates that the Sentinel tried to "build up a proscriptive political party, at the cost of the just rights of Catholics and Foreigners, and labored earnestly to crush and trample them under foot." Now, that Editor surely knows that we resisted the establishment of what was termed the Know-nothing party—at least, every other person familiar with the course of the Sentinel is aware of the fact. We just mention this matter to show how reckless that Editor is in everything that concerns politics, and how little confidence can be placed in anything he utters.

☞Our young friend, HENRY W. WATSON, son of Rev. Dr. WATSON, formerly of this place, was admitted to practice in the several Courts of Northumberland county, a few days ago. He read law with ex-Governor POLLOCK, of Milton, (the present residence of Dr. Watson). The young barrister has selected Williamsport (40 miles north of Milton) as the place to "hang out his shingle." We hope he may realize his most ardent desires, for he is a worthy young man.

Bank of Gettysburg.

At an election for Directors of this Institution, held on Monday last, the following gentlemen were chosen:—

George Swope, David Kandlehart, Marcus Samson, Wm. D. Himes, Henry Wirt, Joshua Motter, George Young, E. P. Shorb, D. Wills, H. J. Myers, John K. Longwell, Jacob Resser, John Waugh.

☞On Wednesday last, Mr. SAMUEL HERBST, of this borough, purchased the farm of Mr. GEORGE W. SHRIVER, in Cumberland township, for $3,420, cash.

☞Mr CORNELIUS HOUGHTELLIN sold his farm of 94 acres, in Mountpleasant township, a few days ago, to Mr. RUDISILL, of York county, for $2,000, cash—and purchased the farm of Mr. C. McClean Curreus, in Cumberland township, for $3,000, cash.

Passenger Train.

We are glad to be informed that the Hanover Branch Railroad Company have placed upon their road, a train for passengers and baggage exclusively. This will greatly expedite travel, and will be felt beneficially on the three roads. The "Conowago" is being put in good repair, to run the Passenger train.

For the Holidays.

The Christmas Holidays are drawing nigh, and parents who have children to gratify, or friends who have little favorites to whom they would like to present a nice gift, are directed to the new Confectionery of Mr. E. H. MINNICH, next door to the Post Office.—Mr. MINNICH has now on hand a large variety of Toys and Confections, of almost every description, and his stock will be largely increased between this and the Holidays. With an eye single to pleasing the youngsters, on the joyous occasion alluded to above, he cannot fail to be successful. He will sell retail or wholesale.

[For the Sentinel.

Harper's Ferry.—The Court has decided that the prisoners are guilty upon the various counts brought against them, and has pronounced sentence of death upon them all. Notwithstanding this, Tyson & Bro. continue to make their unrivalled pictures at their new Sky-light Gallery, N. E. corner of the Diamond, Gettysburg.

Public Meeting.

A highly encouraging meeting of our citizens, on the subject of lighting the town with Gas, was held in the Arbitration Room of the Court House, on Tuesday evening last. On motion of H. J. FAHNESTOCK, Hon. JOEL B. DANNER was called to the Chair. Hon. S. R. Russell was chosen Secretary.

Prof. M. JACOBS, Hon. R. J. FISHER, D. MCCONAUGHY, Esq., R. G. MCCREARY, Esq., Prof. MUHLENBERG and H. J. STAHLE, made speeches on the occasion, all urging the importance of the contemplated enterprise, and immediate action in carrying it forward. The following committees were appointed, to ascertain the number of persons who would take the Gas, and the number of Burners, and make report at the next meeting:

Carlisle street—Capt. R. McCurdy, Henry Wantz.

Baltimore street—H. J. Stahle, David McCreary.

York street—Hon. S. R. Russell, David Wills, Esq.

Chambersburg street—D. McConaughy, Esq., A. D. Buehler.

Middle street—Henry J. Fahnestock, George Little.

For the balance of the town—Hon. J. B. Danner, Prof. Jacobs, R. G. McCreary, Esq.

An encouraging interest was manifested throughout the proceedings, and the meeting adjourned in high hopes of success—to meet again this (Monday) evening, at 7 o'clock, at the same place. A full turn out of our citizens is anticipated.

The Christmas Festival.

The arrangements for the Festival are progressing, and there is little doubt that it will be a handsome and elegant affair. An efficient committee of Ladies has been appointed, who have all matters in hand, aided by a sub-committee of Gentlemen.—Both the second and third stories of Sheads & Buehler's large building have been secured. The present idea is to have the Fancy, Toy and Cake Tables in the upper room, which will likewise be devoted to promenading (as at the Commencement Promenade)—the Band discoursing sweet music. A small admittance fee will be charged, to insure greater comfort to those who will attend. On Saturday evening there will be a Supper in the lower Hall, for which Tickets will be sold at 50 cents each, the holders of these tickets requiring no other ticket of admission. And on Monday evening there will be refreshments sold in the same room, but of a different character. As it is desired to realize as large a sum as practicable for the benefit of the Band, it has been suggested that our Country friends, especially those who have enjoyed their music, send in articles for the table, such as Turkies, Geese, Hams, Apples, Oysters, and whatever else may be convenient.

We have no doubt that the Festival will be a success, as the arrangements will be complete; and we have no doubt that citizens of town, without respect to party, will gladly attend it for an agreeable and delightful evening's entertainment.

Burglars About.

On Friday night last, the slaughter-house of Mr. HARVEY D. SWENEY, in this place, was broken into, and about 50 lbs. of beef and a quantity of puddings taken. Housekeepers would do well to look after their premises, and have them secured at night.

Sudden Death.

Mr. MICHAEL HERRING, of Franklin township, was found dead on the morning of the 20th inst, at the foot of the stairs in his still-house, his neck being dislocated, and his body otherwise bruised. He had left his dwelling for the mill, on the evening previous, and had probably stopped at the still house, which was between the dwelling and the mill, for an examination of the premises. His family, presuming he was in the mill, as customary, knew nothing of the sad event until the next morning. We knew him not personally, but those who did, speak of him well. We believe no inquest was held, which we have heard remarked upon by a neighbor as singular—circumstances connected with it rendering it one of those cases which the law of inquest contemplates.

Shocking Death.

On Monday week, Mr. MICHAEL WOLF, who resided near Taneytown, met with a sudden and shocking death, on the road leading from Littlestown to Emmitsburg, about one mile from the former place. He was engaged in hauling lime, and it is supposed that whilst getting from the saddle horse, with the intention of drawing the rubbers, at the top of a hill, he fell, and two of the wheels passed over his shoulder and neck, producing instant death. There were several teams in the rear, but the sad accident was not witnessed by any one of the drivers. His remains were taken to his brother's, who resides in the neighborhood. Verily, "in the midst of life we are in death."

☞At the last Court in Carlisle, Emanuel Myers, Snyder Rupley, Henry Kiefauver, and Valentine Gass, were indicted for kinnapping some negroes from Cumberland county. The three last were acquitted, and the first named was found not guilty on the two first counts of the indictment, but guilty on all the other counts. His counsel has applied for a new trial.

☞The famous mountaineer, Kit Carson, died a few weeks ago, at Taos, New Mexico, where he was Indian agent.

The Meeting of Congress.

Congress meets on Monday, December 5th. The members of the house have all been chosen, and that body will consist of 93 regular Democrats, 8 who call themselves anti-Lecompton Democrats. 113 Republicans, and 23 South Americans. The Senate is composed of 36 Democrats, 24 Republicans, and 2 Americans. There are four vacancies.

The contest for the Speakership of the House will be a close one, but as the Republicans greatly outnumber any other organization in that body, they will of course have the naming of the candidate. Mr. Grow, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, are the most spoken of, with the chances in favor of the latter.

The Clerkship of the House appears to be depending entirely upon the combination which may be made for the Speakership. If the South Americans vote for the Republican candidate for Speaker, they will probably obtain the Clerkship. If they refuse to meet the Republicans on these terms, a combination will most likely be made between the Republicans and the anti-Lecompton democrats, and the Clerkship will be given to John W. Forney.

It may very possibly occur that no arrangement will be made by the Republicans with any other political body. The Administration, being exceedingly anxious to get Congress into working order, may withdraw enough of its men to admit of the election of a Speaker by the Republicans alone. At all events, the contest is not likely to be a protracted one, such as that which inaugurated the first session of the thirty-fourth Congress.

The business to be acted upon by Congress will be of a very important character. The Post-Office Appropriation Bill, which failed last year, the question of the admission of Kansas, the Tariff, the Census, and the next Presidency, will supply abundant topics for discussion. The unusual number of able and experienced public men now in Congress, and the magnitude of the questions to be considered, will make the proceedings of the coming session highly interesting to the country at large.

Singular and Alarming Accident.

Mr. Peter Reed has informed us that a most remarkable and threatening occurrence happened in his family on Tuesday evening. He states that his daughter, about twelve years of age, had been suffering from sore throat, when it was deemed prudent to consult a physician for her relief. A German practitioner, whose name we have forgotten, was accordingly sent for, who proceeded to apply what we suppose, from Mr R's description of the substance, to have been phosphorus, which igniting immediately burned her severely, and destroyed portions of her clothing. Before the flame could be extinguished it had communicated to other articles in the room, and for a time the destruction of the house was apprehended. The fire was subdued, however, and without any serious consequences except to the suffering patient.—Hanover Spectator.

Improvements at New Oxford.

We notice the following improvements in the thriving town of New Oxford:

Mr. John R. Hersh is erecting a large and fine two-story brick Dwelling. It is nearly ready for the roof.

Mr. A. W. Staub is building a two-story brick house which is about ready for the roof.

Dr. Smith, of Hanover, has the foundation laid for a commodious double house.

Abdiel F. Gitt is hauling materials preparatory to the erection of a new brick house, the excavation for which has been commenced.

The fall weather has, thus far, been very favorable for building purposes.

A GAY SEASON IN WASHINGTON.—A gay winter—the gayest of the gay ever enjoyed here, says the Washington States, is expected to commence with the approaching session. Most of the members of both branches will bring their families with them. The hotels and boarding-houses have fortunately extended their accommodations so as to probably enable them to meet such requisitions as may be made by transient sojourners.

☞A street fight took place at Nashville, Tenn, a few days ago, between Allen A. Hall, Esq., Editor of the News, and Mr. Poindexter, the Editor of the Union, which resulted in the death of the latter, ten buckshot taking effect in his breast, from a double-barreled gun in the hands of the former. He expired without uttering a word. They were both men of high standing, and have filled responsible offices.—The difficulty grew out of an editorial controversy.

☞The corner-stone of a new Evang. Reformed and Lutheran church at Fairview, near Frederick, Md., was laid with suitable ceremonies on Saturday last. The Rev. Jesse Steiner, of the Glade, preached an appropriate sermon on the occasion. The Rev. Mr. Colliflower, of Jefferson, and the Rev. Drs. Diehl and Zacharias, officiated at the laying of the corner-stone.

KILLED.—Mr. Frank Farrell, a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was killed on Thursday morning. He was standing on the track, when two trains passed, one up the road and one down. Before he could step back, he was run over and instantly killed. The accident occurred near the town of Columbia.

Here and There! A Nice Contrast!

It is instructive, and sometimes amusing, to watch the movements of politicians. A curious instance of their inconsistency, and of the readiness with which professions are made, has just come under our notice, and that of all who would look.

In this county, the Democratic party profess to be the special friends and defenders of what they call Religious Liberty, and have a holy and intense horror of Know-Nothingism, which latter ism is considered the worst of all the isms which infest the country. Now see what the Democratic politicians are elsewhere.

In New York State, the Democratic party is a minority. There are three parties there: the Republican, the Democratic, and the American. The last named claims to have the balance of power. The Democrats were exceedingly anxious to carry certain State officers this fall, so as to get control of the State Canals. They therefore bargained with the Know-Nothing leaders, who, for certain considerations, agreed to support four of the Democratic candidates for State offices. The American State Convention at Utica, adopted Messrs. Jones, Richmond, Skinner, and Elderkin Some of the Catholic Democrats in New York City, Albany, and a few other points, rebelled at the arrangement, and refused to vote for these men, but the "rank and file" of the party acquiesced in the bargain; and the returns show that Messrs. Jones, Richmond, and Skinner are elected, and Elderkin was beaten by a few hundred votes, out of a poll of over a half a million.—Thus Democratic candidates for important State offices were elected by Know-Nothing votes, in pursuance of an arrangement made and publicly announced weeks before the election—the party silently agreeing to the combination. This is an evidence of the mode in which the Democrats of New York State deal with Know-Nothings.—They combine with them, are glad of the chance, and rejoice over the success which attends the bargain!

But this is not all. In New Jersey, there was an alliance, similar though not quite the same. There were but two candidates for Governor—Charles S. Olden, an Old Line Whig, who was adopted by the Republicans, and Gen E. V. R. Wright, the regular Democratic candidate. There has been for some years, a small, but radical, straight American party in New Jersey, chiefly confined to Camden, Cape May, Gloucester, and other lower Counties.—Com. Stockton, an old Democrat, is their leader. The returns of the election show that the straight American vote was cast for the Democratic candidate, Wright; the Democrats, in return, voting for and electing certain straight Americans to the State Senate and Assembly. The bargain is palpable.

In Gloucester county, compared with the last Governor's election in 1856, the Opposition lose 515 votes. In Cape May, the Opposition lose 83, and the Democrats gain 191. In Camden, the Opposition lose 506, and the Democrats gain 526: so that where Newell (Opp.) had in 1856 a majority of 1020, Wright (Dem.) in 1859 has a majority of 10!—making in that County a change of 1030 votes!!

Out of this region the Opposition gain everywhere. In it they lose—the reason being the bargain made by the Democrats and Know Nothings.

Democratic newspapers are rejoicing over the election of the Know-Nothing part of their State ticket in New York, and are grieving over the defeat of the Know-Nothing and Democratic ticket in New Jersey. Yet the same Democratic newspapers and Democratic party pretend to be opposed to Know-Nothingism, and have a special regard for Catholic voters!

These facts, with others to which we have alluded in our County and State, must convince every unprejudiced man, that there is a large Know-Nothing element in the Democratic party, and that the leaders of the Democracy are ready, at any time, to drive any bargain which will give them victory! Can the Compiler gainsay these facts?

☞An old Whig, who now votes the Buchanan ticket, said the other day: "My acquaintances sometimes wonder how I, who have always fought against the Democratic party, can now vote with it; but I can tell them that voting the ticket isn't the greatest difficulty. It is mixing with the men that I find the hardest work."

NON-INTERCOURSE WITH THE NORTH.—The Richmond Whig cordially approves a suggestion "for the formation of voluntary associations throughout Virginia and the South, bound together by a common pledge among themselves, neither to eat, drink, wear, buy or use any article whatever manufactured at or imported from the North."

☞A fire broke out at Atalanta, Ga., on the night of the 16th inst., which destroyed a large number of valuable houses and stores—loss $300,000. Two children were burnt to death, and another is missing.—The mother of the children was awfully burnt, but still survives.

☞A very large number of the most distinguished citizens of Pittsburg have addressed a letter to the Hon. THOMAS M. HOWE, of that city, urging him to consent to be a candidate for Governor of this State. He has consented.

Court Proceedings.

The following cases were disposed of in the Court of Quarter Sessions, last week:

Comm. vs. Samuel Cashman, on oath of M. Criswell—Assault with intent to commit a Rape. Verdict, Guilty of Assault and Battery—sentenced to pay $10, and costs of prosecution.

Comm. vs. Wm. Boller, on oath of Bernard Devine—Assault and Battery. Verdict, Guilty—sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and give security in $500 to keep the peace for 18 months.

Comm. vs. Lucy Ann Miller and others, on oath of Catharine Gintling—Assault and Battery. Verdict, Guilty—sentenced to pay 6 cents fine and costs.

Comm. vs. Emanuel Izer, on oath of W. Winebrennet—Assault and Battery. Verdict, Guilty—sentenced to 3 months imprisonment in County Jail, to pay a fine of $20, and the costs of prosecution.

☞The Grand Jury returned a true Bill against David Bingaman, Jacob Stover and Henry Craig, for the murder of Joseph Groft.

CIVIL SUITS.

S. & W. McCreary vs. Jesse M. Hutton—Summons in Trespass on the case. Verdict for Plaintiff, $5 damages.

Samuel Ferguson vs. Jacob Boller—Summons in debt on three notes. Verdict for the Defendant $40.

Wm Ross White, Adm'r of the estate of Joseph Orndorff, dec'd, vs. Joseph Riddlemoser—Appeal from the docket of Esquire Bringman by Plaintiff. Verdict for Defendant.

Railroad to Waynesboro'.

The last Waynesboro' Record contains an estimate of the cost of the contemplated Railroad from Gettysburg to that place, viz: For grading and bridging from the Viaduct to Waynesboro', a distance of twelve miles, at $15,000 per mile, $180,000, and $12,000 from Gettysburg to the Viaduct, making a sum total of $192,000; for cross ties at $520 per mile, 24 miles, $12,480; iron $93,600; laying of track, &c, $12,000—making a total of $310,080. From the Viaduct it is proposed to locate the Road along the side of the Green Ridge, near Mr. Snyder's, and cross near Hughes' Forge, and thence down the side of the Mountain to the valley. A public meeting was to be held in Waynesboro', on Saturday, the 26th inst, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to make arrangements for a Survey of the route.

Another State.

The "Pike's Peak" region is moving in the organization of a Territorial government and expect, when they get old enough, to call their State "JEFFERSON."

At the election held a few weeks since, twenty-two hundred votes were polled—nine-tenths of them "for a Provisional Government." At the same election the following State officers were chosen, by an average majority of about one thousand: Governor, Robert W. Steele, from Nebraska; Secretary, Lucien W Bliss, Kansas; Auditor, C. R. Bissel, Iowa; Treasurer, Geo W Cook, Iowa; Attorney General, Samuel McLean, Pennsylvania; Marshal, John L. Merrick, Kansas; Chief Justice of Supreme Court, A. J. Allison, Kansas; Associate Justices of Supreme Court, John N. Odell, Michigan, E. Fitzgerald, Ohio; Clerk of Supreme Court, Oscar B. Totten, Kansas; Superintendent of Public Instruction, H. H McAfee, Illinois.

It will be seen that all the persons elected are from the north or free States.

☞A most disastrous conflagration took place at New Orleans on the 13th inst.—Eighty-three houses were burned, and over one hundred families were left homeless, and their household goods utterly destroyed.

☞Specie Going.—The steamer Vanderbilt sailed from New York for Europe on the 19th, with 132 passengers, and nearly a million of dollars in specie, and the steamer City of Baltimore, on the same day, with 213 passengers, and $227,000 in specie!

THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS.—Vesuvius is still in a state of eruption, the lava having now reached a point three miles from the crater. The present mouth was opened eighteen months ago, by a violent earthquake, the cinders from which were carried as far as Constantinople. It is estimated that 28,000,000 cubic yards of lava have issued from the crater during this eruption. The temperature of the lava is 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

☞Died, at Lucknow, India, September 16th, Rev. J. R. Downey, of the Methodist Mission. He was a young married man, and of great promise. Thus early has one of the six men sent out by the Methodist Episcopal Church of this country fallen in the beginning of a most promising life of labor.

'NOTICE TO QUIT.'—The Columbus (Ga.) Sun mentions the arrest in that city of William Scott, a member of a firm of New York merchants. An open expression of sympathy for "Old Brown," and the possession of Beecher's incendiary sermons were the occasion of the arrest. He received "notice to quit," and took his departure by the first train.

☞Mr. Frank Lewis, an estimable citizen of Philadelphia, who was to have been married on Wednesday to a daughter of Commodore Stockton, died after an illness of a few days on Monday. The invitations had been issued and preparations had all been made for the wedding ceremony, when he was suddenly taken away.

A SAD CASE.—Mr. Wm. J. Lane has resigned the cashiership of the Fulton Bank, New York city, which he has filled with honor and profit during more than a quarter of a century; but going out now a ruined and broken-down old man through the financial foibles of his son, whose operations with his father's checks and a defalcation of $60,000 for the old man to pay, are still fresh in the public mind.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

We subjoin from the Baltimore Sun, a full and accurate account of the fatal accident which occurred on the Northern Central Railroad on Saturday afternoon week, resulting in the death of the conductor, Mr. Alfred Crawford, and the injury of two other persons. It is as follows:

"The train left this city at three o'clock, composed of the usual complement of cars, and proceeded safely until within about a half mile of the Mount Washington station, when going around a short curve one of the rails was pressed from its place, and three cars were thrown from the track.—The locomotive, tender and baggage car kept the track, and the forward trucks of the first passenger car remained in their proper place. As soon as the engineer discovered that something was wrong he reversed his engine, but could not stop until he had proceeded about a hundred yards.—The two rear cars were upset, and lodged against a telegraph pole. Mr. Crawford, who was on the platform between the two rear cars, jumped off, and was so caught that his head was horribly crushed, killing him instantly. The accident is said to have occurred through defective ties, the wood being so decayed that the spikes which held the rails took no hold, and there was nothing to prevent the track from spreading when the pressure of the locomotive was upon it. One who was on the train, and who returned to the city, stated that the accident produced the greatest consternation. Several of the cars were badly broken, and it was miraculous that so little personal injury was sustained. Mr. Crawford, the conductor, was a brother to Wm. Crawford, Esq, the agent of the Philadelphia and Baltimore railroad, and was highly respected by those who knew him for his urbanity and uprightness of life. His body was brought to the city and taken charge of by his friends, at his residence, on Calvert street, near Franklin. Mrs. Bishop, a lady who resides near the scene of the accident, lent her aid to relieve those who were in the capsized cars. She took with her an axe, and cut a hole through the side of one of the cars so that the passengers could get out without much difficulty. The cars were all pretty well filled with passengers. The flag was flying at half-mast yesterday on the Calvert station, as a token of respect to the memory of the deceased.

The deceased was a nephew of JOHN S. CRAWFORD, Esq., of this place.

☞The rumors of an invasion of our territory at Brownsville by a large Mexican force under Cortinas are not confirmed, and hence the further movement of troops to that position are unnecessary. The design imputed by rumor to this Government of seizing upon the Northern States of Mexico is not entertained. Neither is the territory of Mexico coveted by the United States, nor the control of her internal affairs. To undertake the government of Mexico would be a hopeless task. We want nothing but peace and commerce in regard to Mexico.

The British subjects interested in Mexico are very desirous the United States should annex Mexico, and they expressed great surprise, on a late occasion, when an American gentleman informed them the United States would not accept Mexico, were the country, with its people, voluntarily tendered to us. The British government would have interfered ere this for the protection of British commercial interests in Mexico, but for the hope and belief that the United States government would take Mexican matters in hand. That something will be done of an efficient nature by Great Britain, France and the United States, for forcing Mexico to respect treaties and regard national rights, there is no reasonable doubt.

A sufficient force of regulars and volunteers has, it is believed, reached Brownsville, ere this, for the protection of that frontier.

A SNOW-STORM.—A storm of snow and sleet commenced at Boston on Monday night, but soon changed to a heavy rain. Six inches of snow fell at Bellows Fall, Vt., on the same night, and at Montreal there were three inches; and on Tuesday morning the thermometer was down to twenty-eight degrees.

NORFOLK, Nov. 23.—A special messenger has arrived here from Northampton, on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, for volunteers to protect the property of slave owners, it having been ascertained that an attempt would be made on the 25th to run off slaves to Canada. Great excitement is said to prevail in the vicinity in reference to the matter.

☞Jesse Bean, formerly of Norristown, Pa., who has been living for several years in McDowell county, Va., recently became a subject for the threatened application of Lynch law in Tazewell, on account of suspicions that he was in the habit of tampering with slaves and inducing them to run away. He escaped the indignity, however, by hastily leaving the place. So says the Jeffersonville Advocate.

☞The Paris correspondent of the Times says that it is rumored that the interview between the King of Sardinia and Garibaldi was not very satisfactory. The latter declared that Italy was betrayed and that he should put himself at the head of a revolution; whereupon Victor Emanuel replied that if he did so he had no alternative but to employ a force against him.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD IN OPERATION.—Last night the underground railroad train arrived here with thirty passengers, five from the vicinity of Richmond, Va., twelve from Kentucky, and thirteen from Missouri. They are now all safe in Canada. The thirteen from Missouri were sold to go down the river the very day they started. A stalwart six-footer and a Sharp's rifle were the only guides.—Chicago Jour., 18th.

LARGE ICEBERGS.—The clipper ship Uncowah, which arrived at San Francisco 25th ult., from New York, reports that on 9th August, when about 55 miles off Cape Horn, she fell in with a number of icebergs, the largest of which was about 8 miles long and 300 feet high. This huge berg must have been some 2,000 feet deep in the water.

☞Bayard Taylor spent seven weeks in California, and delivered about two dozen lectures, with a clear profit, estimated by some of his acquaintances there, at about $5,000.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

The American Minister, Mr. Ward, at Pekin.

The Hungarian's mail brings us full details of the doings at Pekin of our Minister to China, Mr. Ward. He was well treated at the Imperial city, but failed to obtain an interview with the Emperor, owing to his refusal to submit to certain required forms of courtly etiquette. The Chinese authorities made considerable concessions on this point, but politely insisted that Mr. Ward should either kneel on presentation to the Emperor, or should touch the floor with his finger. A ludicrous compromise was proposed, by which Mr. Ward, on approaching the throne, should bow low, and then two chamberlains would approach and raise him up with the exclamation "don't kneel." The Emperor and his council, however, declined to accept this ingenious compromise, and so Mr. Ward left without seeing the Emperor. He offered, however, to make nine low bows, and it is difficult to see how his personal or official capacity would have been more seriously compromised by once touching the ground with his finger, as the Emperor required, than by making this protracted obeisance. The venerable prime minister with whom Mr. Ward conferred, and who rejoices in the euphonious appellation Kweiliang, received the American embassy with great courtesy, argued the etiquette question with considerable logical force, and declared that were he a Commissioner to this country, he should not object to treat the President with the same deference he does his Emperor, and would even burn incense before him if etiquette required. He considered that when it was customary to kneel before the Queen of England or kiss the Pope's big toe, no offence could be taken at the ceremonies that the American Minister was requested to observe before his imperial master. Mr. Ward thought differently; and thus President Buchanan's letter was not delivered by our Minister to the Emperor of China, but was confided to the courteous Kweiliang, who received it with great respect. The treaty was then formally ratified by the Commissioners. A letter dated Canton, September 10th, says that Mr. Ward had returned to Shanghai.

GERRIT SMITH.—A correspondent of the Syracuse Journal says that previous to being conveyed to Utica, "Mr. Smith had been quite sick for some ten days with 'brain fever,' and for most of this time quite delirious; but thinking he might soon recover, nothing was said about it out of the family, but getting no better, and perhaps worse, some of his most intimate friends were called in to see him. The great theme of conversation was Harper's Ferry and the transactions connected therewith. He recognized his friends, grasped them frantically by the hand, and told them they saw him for the last time; that he was a poor wretch, not fit to live; that he had not a friend on earth or in heaven; that the next night he should be in Baltimore and undergo the most excruciating torments that it was possible for human beings to inflict; that he had deeply wronged his neighbors in his ordinary dealings, &c.

A Child with Two Heads.

SUCCESSFUL AMPUTATION OF ONE.—A correspondent of the North Andover (Me.) Advocate tells the following:

"On the 18th of September last, a child was born in the town of Palmyra, having two heads. The names of the parents are John and Mary Ward. The first, a natural head, seemed as nearly perfect as that of an infant usually—the second, or unnatural head, was connected by a neck of about the usual length and size, to the back or posterior of the first one, a little above the joint where the head and neck naturally join. Both heads were of about the same size and facing opposite ways. Hair grew perfectly natural on both scalps, but the second head was entirely wanting in features—there were a few small irregularities where the face or features should have been, appearing as if nature had attempted to form features, but without success. The health of the child seemed good, and it grew well until the 18th of the month, (Oct.) when the unnatural head was successfully amputated at the neck by Dr. J. C. Mason of Pittsfield; a dissection of this showed the skull to be composed of bone, and cartilage; also what should have been bone in the neck proved to be cartilage. The head contained a substance almost perfectly resembling brain, but of less density. It has now been some five days since the operation, and the child is fast recovering."

☞At recent meetings of the congregations of Havre-de-Grace and the Grove church, Harford county, Md., a unanimous call was given for the ministerial services of the Rev. Dr. Tustin, of Washington city. This is a pleasant compliment to Dr. Tustin, who has been serving these churches as a stated supply for five years past, during which time he has traveled in the execution of his mission 25,000 miles, preached 700 discourses, and paid about 800 social and pastoral visits, besides performing other services appertaining to his profession.—The Grove church, one of the most flourishing in the country, is the result of these labors.

☞Since the discovery of gold in California, a large trade in oranges has sprung up between that country and the Society Islands. About five million oranges are annually exported, for which about $7.50 per thousand is paid, delivered on board ship. The fruit grows luxuriantly in every direction. The natives formerly made an intoxicating liquor, called orange rum, from it. The orange season commences in February and ends in September, during which time the trees may be seen at once in the various stages of blossoming, green and half yellow, and ripe fruit.

A PLEASANT PLACE TO LIVE IN.—In New Orleans, during the month of October and three days of November, there were no less than twenty-five stabbing affrays and twenty cases of shooting. Of these, three were accidental, and five had proved fatal, with a prospect of an unfavorable termination in several cases under treatment.

THE AMERICAN BONAPARTES.—A letter in the Courier des Etats Unis, from M. Gaillardet, dated Paris, Nov. 4th, says that Mr. Jerome Bonaparte, of Baltimore, who recently returned to the United States, had refused the dignity of Senator of France, offered to him by his father, Prince Jerome, in order to induce him to remain in France. Mr. Bonaparte preferred the simple title of American citizen to that of Senator of France.

Wisconsin.

The following extract from a private letter from Wisconsin contains some facts of interest:

"I shall probably spend Thanksgiving with Mr. W., who has been buying up all the poultry in the country to send East.—We buy them alive, and fatten them. Can get any amount for the following prices: chickens, 3 cents a pound; turkeys, 4 cents; geese and ducks, 4 cents. A few days since I bought seventeen nice fat chickens, and the whole of them cost only $1 29. Eggs are worth 10 cents per dozen; lard and tallow, 9 cents a pound, and butter 15 cents. Farmers are faring hard, for there is but little money in the country, and they are selling their cattle, cows and horses for almost nothing. Saw a yoke of fine cattle sold for $25, and frequently a good horse for $5. The first snow of the season came last Saturday night—only about two inches—but it remains on the ground, and the weather is cold."

A Prairie Fire.

A letter from Cannon Falls, Minnesota, to the St. Paul Pioneer, says:

"The night we arrived here it was our privilege to witness one of the grandest sights of the Western country. We stood on a high bluff overlooking the town and saw a prairie fire in all its madness and destructiveness. From out of the west, above the dim horizon, the great red flames came surging in long, quivering waves, extending four or five miles over the prairie. As they came roaring onward the scene was perfectly magnificent. The whole heavens were red as blood; the flames rose fifteen or twenty feet in the air and seemed to threaten destruction to every thing before them. Some farms which lay in their way very narrowly escaped by having furrows ploughed around. Several wheat stacks were swallowed up, and one man only saved his dwelling-house by six feet. Men worked like Trojans all the night fighting the fire. About a quarter of a mile on the other side of the river the flames wheeled around with a sudden change of the wind, and went tearing down the river eastward. A lofty, abrupt, rocky bluff, which seemed to bar their way effectually, was scaled in two or three seconds, and the fire poured down the slope on the other side in several distinct streams, looking exactly like liquid red-hot lava pouring down some rocky mountain.—The next morning this fiery flood had left a great blackened waste as far as the eye could reach."

ELOPEMENT OF A YOUNG BRIDE.—Last night, about 9 o'clock, says the Boston Herald, of Thursday last, there was considerable excitement in Howard street, on account of the rumor of an elopement on the part of a young bride, the daughter of one of the most distinguished physicians of that locality. The young woman was married about two weeks since to a worthy young man, a merchant on Tremont street, and has thus far proved faithless to her marriage pledge. It is reported that she has gone off with a handsome young man and about $5,000 of her father's cash. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the fugitives, and the town was scoured last night for their arrest. But, as the sudden disappearance occurred on Saturday last it is not unlikely that the runaways are by this time on their way to the land of the orange and myrtle—Havana.

☞A man named Turner, confined in the Delaware State Prison, under sentence of death, recently managed to escape from durance, in company with several of his fellows. He immediately waited on the Attorney-General, informed him of the jail delivery, and farther stated that he did not care for the death penalty hanging over him, but that he feared if he staid longer in his apartments he should catch the scarlet-fever from a woman who was sick with the disease near him. This is decidedly a manly taste.

A SMALL WINDFALL.—A letter from New-York to the Boston Post says that Dr. Charles King, the respected President of Columbia College, has the prospect of ending his days in clover. His wife had the good fortune to inherit, by the death of a relative, about a month ago, an estate estimated to be worth some $700,000. We doubt if the Dr. can sqeeze out of this more than his victuals and clothes.

A NOBLE LITTLE GIRL.—The Warrentown, Va., Flag, contains an account of the death, on last Thursday, of a little girl of eight or nine years, daughter of Mr. Traverse Gough, living a few miles from Haymarket. In the absence of all older than herself, her clothing took fire. She first tried to suppress the flames herself, then she asked her little sister of four years to throw water on her, but the little one ran, instead, to call the neighbors. When they came they found her laying out in the yard, and in reply to the question "what she was doing there?" she said she thought if she stayed in the house that the house would catch fire and burn the baby up, too. What a noble sensible remark, for one so young. She retained all her faculties to the last, conversed freely, and bore her sufferings with a degree of fortitude truly remarkable for one of her age. The interesting little creature deserved a better fate.

☞In Philadelphia on Thursday, while the funeral of a colored female was passing through the streets, the hearse encountered an obstruction, which forced a pin out of one of the wheels, and the hearse was overturned. The coffin was broken, and the corpse rolled out upon the street, while the driver was thrown from his box and considerably injured.

Winter Millinery.

MISS McCREARY will open to-morrow a new and beautiful assortment of MILLINERY and FANCY GOODS, consisting of Bonnets, Hats and Caps, Bonnet Frames, Silks and Velvets of all colors, with Feathers, Flowers and Ribbons to match; Lace Ruches, Illusion, Maline, and Wash blond, Fancy Head dresses, Hair-balls, Hair-brushes, and Combs; Soaps, Perfumery, and Lily white; Handkerchiefs and Embroideries; Ladies' and Children's Gloves, Armlets and Hosiery; Steel-extension Skirts, of all sizes; also, Cloaks and Shawls, (latest styles) with a variety of other articles for the Ladies' Toilet too numerous to mention—all of which she will be happy to show to those who may give her a call.

Gettysburg, Oct. 31. 4t

Fall and Winter Goods.

THOMAS W. EVANS & CO. have now open for inspection one of the largest and handsomest assortments of Ladies' Dress Goods to be found in the Country, selected carefully with a view of suiting all tastes.—The stock will be found to embrace a variety of goods in all prices. Among the articles to be found in their extensive establishment are Silks of all kinds and prices.

Shawls in the newest designs.
Cloaks—the Latest Paris Styles.
Poplins, Mous. de Laines, Valencias.
Challe's, Chintz, and other new textures of this season's Importations.
Lace Goods, Embroideries, the newest novelties.
Gloves, Veils, Mitts, Handkerchiefs, &c.
Mourning Goods, a full assortment.
White Goods, in every texture.
Hosiery of the best makers, with a full stock of other goods worthy a visit of inspection.

A large portion of T. W. E. & Co's stock is their own importation, one of the firm visiting Europe twice a year to make purchases, thus enabling them to offer to their customers, the newest and most fashionable styles and textures, simultaneous with their appearance in Europe. They have also purchased largely this season at the Auction Sales, and can thus afford to give their customers the full benefit of the Depreciated Prices, resulting from excessive Importations. Ladies and others from this vicinity, visiting the City, will find that a call at this establishment will repay them.

PICTURES copied from old specimens of all kinds; also, inserted in Lockets, Breast Pins and Finger Rings, by SAMUEL WEAVER.

☞The most appropriate and highly prized gift for the Holidays is one of TYSON'S "imperishable" pictures, handsomely encased, for time will never efface it.

FULL LENGTH STEEL ENGRAVINGS OF
Washington and Everett,

INCLUDING a View of Mount Vernon, in the Engraving of Washington. These splendid engravings are from original paintings by Hicks, and are ENGRAVED ON STEEL in the highest style of Art. They are each 25x35 inches, EACH CONTAINING SIX SQUARE FEET. So many coarse, miserable pictures have been palmed upon the public as works of art—and especially in cheap, black and muddy engravings—that it is difficult to convince persons of taste that they are safe in ordering what they have not first seen. We have paid the first artists their own prices, amounting to MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS, to produce ENGRAVINGS REALLY BEAUTIFUL, as well as THE BEST PORTRAITS, and that shall be SPLENDID ORNAMENTS TO ANY PARLOR.

☞Opinions that can be relied on.

☞The Editor of the NEW YORK OBSERVER says:—"These engravings are genuine works of art—the likenesses are admirable. The portrait of Mr. Everett will take precedence of all others."

☞THE NEW YORK CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE says:—"They are among the finest engravings we have ever seen, and the publishers are fully responsible for all they promise."

TERMS, ALMOST GRATIS.

We will send, post paid, securely packed in rollers—Either Engraving and a $3 Magazine, one year, for $3. Both Engravings, and a $3 Magazine, one year, for $4. ☞AGENTS who remit $30 at one time, will have an extra copy of each engraving. The Magazines are Harper's, The Knickerbocker, Godey's Lady's Book, The Atlantic, Blackwood.

☞By special arrangement, the entire year's subscription to the Magazines is paid over by us to their publishers, and subscribers receive their supply for the year direct from their respective publication offices. The cost of the engravings is paid only by the difference between the lowest wholesale and the regular price of the Magazines.

☞Engravings sent at once, and subscriptions to periodicals commence with current issue, unless otherwise ordered. Money at our risk if proof is retained of having been mailed. First impressions are best, therefore send early.

Latest News!

The great excitement in Gettysburg, tis said,
Is caus'd by PICKING'S CLOTHING, all neat and ready-made,
His goods are all fresh, his styles are all new,
Just drop in and see, and you'll find this is true.
If you want a fine coat, he has every shade,
Blue, brown and black, all well trimmed and made;
And his large stock of pants comprises all colors,
The finest of Cassimeres, Doeskins, and others.
And now of his vests all the patterns are new,
Of fine silks and satins, and velvets not few;
His stock is too large to enumerate here,
In a word he has all that gentlemen wear.
He has also a stock made expressly for youth,
And his mode of dealing is fairness and truth;
And the best of it all is the fact (not my rhymes)
He is selling at prices to SUIT THE HARD TIMES.
You'll always find Clothing, in quality rare,
Made up of materials for service and wear;
Then give him a call, and you'll find him on hand,
In Chambersburg street, right at his old stand.

A BLOODLESS VICTORY
1,000,000 Boxes Sold of
MOREHEAD'S
MAGNETIC PLASTER.

THIS enormous quantity of this Invaluable Remedy has been purchased by citizens of the United States during the short time it has been before the public. The reason for this extraordinary success is simply in the actual truth and value of the article. No one buys the MAGNETIC PLASTER without becoming its friend. It performs all that is promised, and carries with it its own recommendation. Truly this is a Victory—peaceful and bloodless—but we believe not less glorious than the triumphs of war, with its train of carnage and desolation.

The MAGNETIC PLASTER is undoubtedly the Greatest Strengthener and Pain Destroyer that Science has yet discovered. If you put this Plaster anywhere, if Pain is there, the Plaster will stick there until the Pain has vanished. The Plaster magnetizes the Pain away, and PAIN CANNOT EXIST WHERE THIS PLASTER IS APPLIED.

Rheumatism, Lameness, Stiffness, Weakness, Debility, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Coughs and Colds, Pains and Aches of every kind, down even to Corns, are IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED, and, with a little patience, PERMANENTLY CURED, by the magical influence of the MAGNETIC PLASTER. It is the simplest, surest, safest, pleasantest and cheapest remedy in existence. Its application is universal—equally to the strong man, the delicate woman, and the feeble infant. To each and all it will prove a Balm and a Blessing. Its use is agreeable, and without annoyance or trouble. Its price is within reach of all—rich or poor; all may have it, and all should have it who are sick, and suffering in any way.

FARMERS should be always supplied with this invaluable PLASTER. It will be the Good Physician in any household, ready at all times, and at instant notice.

Put up in air tight tin boxes. Each box will make six to eight plasters, and any child can spread them. Price 25 cents a box, with full and plain directions.

D. C. MOREHEAD, M. D.,
Inventor and Proprietor, 19 Walker st., New York.

Morehead's Magnetic Plaster is sold by all Druggists in every City, Town, and Village of the United States.

PRIVATE SALE OF Valuable Real Estate.

BY virtue of an Order of the Orphans' Court of Carroll County, the Subscriber, Executor for the sale of the Real Estate of JOHN CLABAUGH, late of said County, deceased, offers at Private Sale the Real Estate of said deceased, near Middleburg, Carroll County, Md., comprising

TWO FARMS,
CONTAINING
330 Acres of Land,

more or less. These Farms are [illegible] situated, laid out in fields of convenient size and under good fencing. The Improvements on the upper Farm comprise a large two-story DWELLING, with water near the door; BANK BARN, Smoke House, Wash House, Carriage House, Corn Crib, and other needed out-buildings. There are due proportions of Meadow and Timber Land.

The arable is good quality Red Land. On this tract there are two good ORCHARDS, of Apple and Peach Trees, in full bearing, and a great variety of other Fruit Trees, scattered over the Farm.

The lower Farm is watered, productive, and under good fencing, has thereon a fine young ORCHARD of select Fruit, together with all other kinds of Fruit Trees growing, and a fair amount of excellent MEADOW LAND. It is improved with a two-story weather-boarded LOG HOUSE, Spring, and Spring House near the door; BARN, very good; Wagon Shed, Corn Crib, Hog House, &c.

The above described property will be offered at Private Sale until Thursday, January 12, 1860, and if not previously sold, will, on that day, at 2 o'clock, P. M., be offered at Public Sale.

TERMS.—The purchaser or purchasers to pay to said Executor one-third part of the whole purchase money on the day of sale, or on the ratification of the said sale by the Orphans' Court for Carroll County, and the residue in two equal payments, the one payable in one year and the other payable in two years from the day of sale; and to secure the two last named payments, the purchaser or purchasers shall give his, her or their notes, bonds or single bills, to the said Executor, with sufficient security, and bearing interest from the day of sale.

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale, the FARM, late of Col. CAMPBELL, deceased, situate two miles east of Gettysburg, on the public road leading to East Berlin, containing 188 ACRES AND 77 PERCHES.

The Farm is well calculated for division into TWO SEPARATE FARMS, having erected thereon two sets of Buildings; is handsomely located, and very conveniently laid out. Access is had to each field from a lane which passes through the Tract, dividing it in equal parts. There is abundant and never-failing water to each set of the improvements; a sufficiency of Meadow, TWO ORCHARDS, of choice fruit, and of great variety. There are about 40 Acres of good and thriving Timber, laying in sight of town; and there is not an acre of waste land on the entire premises.

I will sell the farm entire, or will divided it to suit the wishes of those desiring to purchase. Persons desiring to secure a pleasant home, can obtain a bargain by calling soon, as I have determined to part with the property. The premises will be shown to such as want to be suited with homes, by calling on the subscriber, residing in Gettysburg.

FAIRVIEW FARM
At Private Sale.

A VERY DESIRABLE PROPERTY.—This Farm is situated on the Mummasburg Turnpike, adjoining the Borough of Gettysburg, and is in sight of the Railroad Depot, containing 111 Acres and 70 Perches, more or less, 12 Acres of which are covered with Timber, and about 20 Acres of Meadow. The Improvements are a two-story Weather-boarded House, with a one story Back-building, a good Barn, Mechanic's shop, and other Out-buildings—all in good order. From the piazza of the house you have a full view of the town; and can see the Cars arriving and departing. The land is mostly the red soil, is of good quality, and is susceptible of a high state of cultivation. Lime sets well on it, and can always be had at the Railroad Depot, one mile distant, at 12½ cents per bushel. There is a young Apple and Peach Orchard, and a great variety of fruit in the yard. A well of water at the door, and a never-failing spring at the barn. This property, with very little expense, can be made a very desirable and most beautiful country residence, well calculated for a vineyard and vegetable farm.

☞I will sell cheap and on the most accommodating terms. It will be shown either by Mr. SLENTZ, living on the premises, or myself, residing in town.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR,

NEVER DEBILITATES.

IT is compounded entirely from Gums, and has become an established fact, a Standard Medicine, known and approved by all that have used it, and is now resorted to with confidence in all the diseases for which it is recommended.

It has cured thousands within the last two years who had given up all hopes of relief, as the numerous unsolicited certificates in my possession show.

The dose must be adapted to the temperament of the individual taking it, and used in such quantities as to act gently on the bowels.

Let the dictates of your judgment guide you in the use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR, and it will cure Liver Complaints, Billious Attacks, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Dropsy, Sour Stomach, Habitual Costiveness, Cholic, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Flatulence, Jaundice, Female Weakness, and may be used successfully as an Ordinary Family Medicine. It will cure SICK HEADACHE, (as thousands can testify,) in twenty minutes, if two or three Teaspoonfuls are taken at commencement of attack.

All who use it are giving their testimony in its favor.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

Price One Dollar per Bottle.

—ALSO—

SANFORD'S FAMILY CATHARTIC PILLS,

COMPOUNDED FROM

Pure Vegetable Extracts, and put up in GLASS CASES, Air Tight, and will keep in any climate.

The Family Cathartic PILL is a gentle but active Cathartic which the proprietor has used in his practice more than twenty years.

The constantly increasing demand from those who have long used the PILLS and the satisfaction which all express in regard to their use, has induced me to place them within the reach of all.

The Profession well know that different Cathartics act on different portions of the bowels.

The FAMILY CATHARTIC PILL has, with due reference to this well established fact, been compounded from a variety of the purest Vegetable Extracts, which act alike on every part of the alimentary canal, and are good and safe in all cases where a Cathartic is needed, such as Derangements of the Stomach, Sleepiness, Pains in the Back and Loins, Costiveness, Pain and Soreness over the whole body, from sudden cold, which frequently, if neglected, end in a long course of Fever, Loss of Appetite, a Creeping Sensation of Cold over the body, Restlessness, Headache, or weight in the head, all Inflammatory Diseases, Worms in Children or Adults, Rheumatism, a great Purifier of the Blood and many diseases to which flesh is heir, too numerous to mention in this advertisement. Fire and Water Proof

ELASTIC CEMENT ROOFING.

THE undersigned having purchased the right of W. E. Child & Co's Patent Fire and Water Proof Elastic Cement Roofing, for Adams county, they respectfully announce to the public that they are prepared to contract and put on the above roofing at the shortest notice, in the best manner and on the most reasonable terms.

It is perfectly Fire and Waterproof, and in point of durability is equal, if not superior, to any Metallic Roofing. It can be put on over tin, tar, iron, or shingle roofs, however flat or steep they may be.

In point of resisting the elements of fire and water, nothing has yet been discovered equal to the Elastic Cement.

Those who have used it, have testified that it is the very perfection of Roofing, and that there is no further room for improvement.—No one will now think of putting on shingles, when this Cement can be had for much less money and will outwear four shingle roofs.—This Roofing is warranted as represented.

The Elastic Cement is the cheapest and best protection from decay for wood exposed to the weather or dampness of the ground. It is also the best paint for iron, effectually preventing rust; and wherever applied perfectly excludes dampness.

We have the Cement for sale in quantities to suit all. The Railroad buildings, the Warehouse of John Hoke, and a number of private buildings in this place, have been covered with it, where it can be seen. For further particulars apply to

CELEBRATED

AND

LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated

Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

FEVER AND AGUE,

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

FLEMING BROTHERS,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P.S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros. Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

DR. S. FELLER'S

FAMILY MEDICINES

ARE the only preparations of the kind placed before the public under the name of ECLECTIC. They are called Eclectic because they are carefully and scientifically selected—the BEST from all the GOOD—and approved by the most scientific men in the United States. They do not contain any Mercury, Antimony, or Opium, or anything that would be deleterious to the most delicate constitution.

All who understand the curing of disease know that medicines only assist nature, and unless they act and harmonize with nature, disease cannot be cured. Want of a proper knowledge of these facts causes many of our fellow citizens to go down to an untimely grave.

I can therefore recommend this preparation with the utmost confidence, and am fully persuaded, from past experience at the bedside of the sick, that it will give very general, if not universal satisfaction. Yet, at the same time, I do not pretend to say that it is a CURE-ALL, or that it is, in all cases and circumstances, infallible. For when a remedy is set forth as "Cure-All," "Infallible," &c., the conclusion with me is irresistible, that the proprietor himself believes his remedy to be a humbug, and designed from the start to deceive the public.

SAMUEL CRONCE,

Wholesale Agent, York Sulphur Springs, Adams county, Pa., and for sale by Dr. Buehler, Gettysburg; J. S. Hollinger, Heidlersburg; Jacob King, Hunterstown; and Jacob A. Gardner, Petersburg.

We would say to the public, that all we want is a fair trial, and it will recommend itself.
